

Starvation-Forced Crisis Threatens Very Existence of Austro-Hungarian Monarchy

Rome, Feb.

WORSE THAN FOOD RACK MENACES DUAL EMPIRE.

Germans Bully Premier into Incredible Annexation Plot While People Clamor for Bread.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 5.—There are at least a dozen different crises in Austria today, wrote one of the best-informed English correspondents yesterday. "All these crises appear to concentrate on the problem of food. Even the racial animosities of the composite empire, which have always been the weak timbers of its structure, have been inflamed to unusual bitterness by sectional jealousies over food distribution.

"These crises appear to have reached a culmination today in the government's decision to prorogue Parliament during the present phase of the war, for the reason that it could not help, but only hinder, in the solving of economic problems on which everything depends. In the words of a semi-official explanation, before this announcement was made, Premier Von Seyditz met party leaders, impressed upon them the necessities of the situation, offered vague promises of reforms for the discontented 'races' demands, and issued warnings that any agitation would be dealt with by all lawful means.

"Parliamentary government, or rather Parliamentary debates, are to be suppressed indefinitely and an autocratic government will try to hold the helm."

GETS UKRAINIAN FOOD.
What Austria has reached were partly revealed by the Premier's speech and also by the German official statement that all food supplies from Ukraine this month will be given to Austria on account of her greater need. The German correspondent of The Times, discussing the German food shortage yesterday, remarked that the German public realizes that something worse than food scarcity threatens Austria.

"For two months past the exasperation between the Slavonic sections of the Austrian population and the other races has been at the highest point of tension. The Germans have been bullying Premier Von Seyditz with insistence which reached its climax in the request that the Austrian frontier populations of German race could, for food supply purposes, be annexed to Germany."

STEP TOWARD DISSOLUTION.
The request appeared at first little short of incredible, owing to the long-standing feuds involved. Probably nothing more significant of the depth of the present crisis has occurred than the fact that the Austrian government felt compelled to yield completely on this point. To many politicians this yielding of the Food Administration in Bohemia and Tyrol must seem a distinct step toward the breaking up of the Austrian empire.

Some terrible pictures of the food situation in Bohemia have reached the outside world through the correspondence of the Vienna Arbeiter Zeitung, Socialist, who accompanied the Emperor into these districts. He wrote:

"Everywhere the Emperor was met by deputations who described to him the dreadful scarcity of food and starvation suffered by the people. At Schluckenau a deputation stated that 10 per cent of the population was underfed and a large proportion of the people were unfit for work. There is a general day of hunger, typhus and tuberculosis."

NEWSPAPERS ARE SKEPTICAL.
A telegram via Amsterdam says that several newspapers are skeptical regarding the question of whether in the interval, it would be possible to create a better prospect for further industrial labor. The Berlin Tageblatt says the principal reason for the adjournment of Parliament was the government's failure to create a basis for the formation of a majority, and the crown's desire to detach members of the Emperor's House of Parma concerned.

A section of the British liberal press continues to take a critical attitude toward the manner in which the British, French and Italian governments dealt with Emperor Charles's letter. They hold that it offered a promising avenue of peace, and that the door should not have been closed. They also criticize the failure to consult President Wilson in the matter.

The Westminster Gazette and the Star are critical of Lord Robert Cecil's warning against the new "peace offensive." They think that such utterances are unwise.

ADVERTISING SUPREMACY AGAIN SHOWN BY THE TIMES.

The display, classified and special advertising columns of The Times were, as usual, replete with announcements of the greatest number and the best class of advertisers on Sunday, April 22.

The total volume of advertising printed on that date in all the city's newspapers was as follows:

The Times 3,095 inches

The second newspaper 8,521 "

The third newspaper 3,548 "

In "want ads" alone, last Sunday, The Times printed 753 inches more than the two other local newspapers combined. The following is the "want-ad" record:

The Times 3,095 inches

The second newspaper 1,742 "

The third newspaper 403 "

The Times' lead in automobile display advertising over the other morning newspapers for the week ending April 20 was correspondingly high, as is indicated by the following figures, to wit:

The Times 1,068 inches

The second newspaper 376 "

The third newspaper 820 "

The persistent and constantly increasing popularity of The Times as an advertising medium is due to the fact that it has the confidence and good will of readers of stability in every walk of life. More than 124,000 copies of the big Sunday Times were printed and sold last Sunday.

The Times' reliable telegraph and local news columns, its interesting "want-ad" pages, fiction and special features, magazine and Farm and Tractor supplements, incomparable pink and automobile sections, and vivid rotogravure department, are never-ending sources of information and pleasure to a multitude of earnest, industrious and intelligent men and women.

Millions Buy Bonds.

buys a bond and then sells it immediately below par. Of course, if imperative necessity compels the sale of Liberty Bonds, no just complaint can be made; if each and every purchaser keeps his Liberty Bonds he helps to protect the credit of the government by maintaining the bonds at par, which is a very helpful thing in war time, and he also renders essential service to our soldiers and sailors in the field by practicing these economies and savings which release materials and labor necessary to the support of the very life of our army and navy.

"The purchases of a government bond and the sale of the nation and the liberties of the world is not a commercial transaction. The patriot is not determined by the rate of interest on a government bond or by its quoted value upon any stock exchange. He is determined by the government, let chief consideration always be a determination to save the life of the nation from the perils of the German military despotism. That is the patriotic duty of every citizen in the way of self-denial and disregard of the monetary consideration."

FIVE JAILED CHARGED WITH HINDERING WAR.

ALLEGED TO HAVE ARGUED IN SAN FRANCISCO AGAINST ENLISTMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Five men, alleged by the police to have been active, with slight others, in hindering enlistments and hampering the draft among young men employed in industrial plants in this city, were lodged in the city prison last night. The police, co-operating with Federal authorities, said their arrests would be made tomorrow.

The five arrested gave their names as August Mayer, Ludwig Kreyer, sky, Herman Kaddi, Frank Hempf and Ferdinand Scholz. Where these men found a willing listener, they said, they urged against enlistment for the purpose of deliberate interference with the interests of the "Socialist Russian government."

Police searched the quarters of the local branch of the International Bible Association last night and the home of C. W. Gerdes, local elder, and found a number of copies of "The Finished Mystery," a publication forbidden to circulation unless expurgated in certain instances. The seized copies had not been expurgated.

There were no arrests.

REYNOLDS WATCHING PEDDLERS OF BOOZE.

LOS ANGELES MAN, ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER, IS IN JAIL AT VENICE.

VENICE, May 5.—The first fruits of Chief Harry J. Reynolds' campaign against those who seek to procure liquor for soldiers or sailors was the arrest today of two alleged bootleggers, Richard Comards of No. 728 Sixteenth street, Los Angeles, and L. G. Brunner, a Spanish War veteran, who is an inmate of the Soldiers' Home near Sawtelle.

The men, who were held without bail in the Venice jail, charged with having given men in uniform liquor. According to Chief Reynolds the alleged bootleggers approached soldiers and invited them, for a consideration, to take a pull at well-filled flasks that the prisoners had stowed in every pocket large enough to hold one.

The Chief, as he publicly announced yesterday, is determined to stamp out all such practices, and with the support of the City Trustee and the Police Commissioner, with the co-operation of Judge W. A. Rennie, will see that all found guilty of such practices be given the full limit of the law.

CONQUEST OF KARELIA ABANDONED BY FINNS.

GERMANY FAILS TO SUPPORT PLAN OF ANNEXING RUSSIAN REGION.

STOCKHOLM, May 5.—The Finns do not contemplate the conquest of Karelia, according to the Helsinki correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet, who has sent the following telegram:

"I can report authoritatively that no Finnish action for conquest of Russian Karelia can be expected, since Germany will not support such a plan. Meanwhile a movement has been set afoot by the government of Karelia to institute a plebiscite regarding the question of joining Finland and if a majority should favor it Germany might be inclined to support their demands."

Karelia is a region in the northwest of Russia embracing the southeast corner of Finland and including parts of the governments of Petrograd, Olonets and Archangel and bordering to the north on the White Sea. The Karelians belong to the Finnish stock.

AMERICAN CONSUL AT MOSCOW IS DEAD.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The death of Maddin Summers, United States Consul-General at Moscow, was announced today in a cablegram to the State Department. Mr. Summers collapsed under the strain of long months of overwork, the message said, and he was ill but one day.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Retention of the German language in American schools was advocated at today's session of the Association of Modern Language Teachers of the Central West and South.

NE WORGANIZATION TO OPPOSE ARMY TRAINING

"YOUNG DEMOCRACY" OPENS FIRST CONVENTION IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The first convention of a new organization known as the Young Democracy, the main purpose of which is to oppose universal military training, opened here yesterday. One of the organizers was Charles Francis Phillips, former Columbia University professor, who was reported yesterday to have fled to Mexico to escape army service.

Cedric Long presided today and Leila Fay Seyor outlined the purposes of the Young Democracy. She predicted, she said, that the movement would spread all over the world until the younger generation will be permitted to take a hand in making the laws, particularly those which concern the raising of money to support a government. Besides opposing universal military training, she said, the organization would demand a liberal policy toward conscientious objectors, protection of labor standards and the democratization of industry, to the end that the nation should receive the full products of their labor.

Another aim outlined by Miss Seyor is to "introduce democratic control by faculty and students, to insure academic freedom of conscience and speech."

ILLINOIS SOCIALISTS URGE PEACE MEETING.

WANT PRESIDENT TO DEMAND DELEGATE CONFERENCE OF WARRING NATIONS.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Illinois Socialists assembled in State convention in Chicago yesterday declared for constant opposition to the war, for immediate recall of our soldiers from France, and asked that President Wilson demand that the warring nations—selected by the various peoples, not the governments—to execute a peace for the world and democracy.

For more than ten hours, in committee and on the floor, the battle waged on this issue. The convention demanded, too, that the American government immediately recognize the "Socialist Russian government"—the Bolsheviks. The convention nominated for United States Senator William B. Lloyd, Chicago.

$150,000,000 IN ESTATE OF WEALTHY WIDOW.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 5.—Evidence tending to show that the estate of Mrs. Mary L. Flagg, widow of Henry M. Flagg, of New York and second wife of Judge Robert W. Flagg, of Louisville, may reach $150,000,000 and possibly $150,000,000, was introduced here today at a hearing before State Inheritance Tax Appraiser G. W. Hardin.

Prior valuations upon the estate placed it at from $85,000,000 to $100,000,000.

BEWARE PENCILS.

Some of German Make Found to Contain Explosive, Army Quartermaster Reports.

AYER (Mass.) May 5.—A warning to be careful about lead pencils in which explosives may be concealed was issued at the quartermaster's headquarters at Camp Devens yesterday. It was said that "The test is now without a base and therefore unable to renew its stocks of coal and ammunition or effect repairs."

GERMANS HOPE BLACK SEA FLEET IS DONE.

AMSTERDAM, May 5.—The Koolnische Zeitung makes it clear that the Germans hope the capture of Sebastopol will prove a mortal blow to the Russian Black Sea fleet, which seems to have been causing them anxiety. It says:

"The fleet is now without a base and therefore unable to renew its stocks of coal and ammunition or effect repairs."

CHINA MOVING TROOPS TO FIGHT THE REBELS.

AMOI (China) May 5.—Heavy reinforcements of northern troops continue to be sent to the south and west for the projected campaign against the southern rebels. The commanding officers have arrived here to direct the operations.

HAVE NERVE, NOT NERVES

The world war has shown that cowardly use are rare. Most people are courageous when occasion demands. Many who appear to lack nerve are really sick. And in this time when strong men and women are needed the sufferer from "nerves" is pitiable.

If you want strong nerves you must make the effort yourself. You can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

At any rate write today for a copy of the booklet "Dissociation of the Nervous System" and see if you do not find your own case faithfully described. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's needs because they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. Try them whenever your blood is thin.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y. Do not pay more.

BANFF SPRINGS HOTEL

In the Heart of a Grander Switzerland—
THE CANADIAN PACIFIC ROCKIES

—summer resort of many discriminating Americans. The outdoor life—golf, tennis, motoring roads, pony riding on mountain trails, hiking, climbing—the open air sulphur pools, the roomy restfulness of the big hotel with its excellent ballroom and orchestra, its splendid cuisine and service—combine to give Banff its tone. Moderate rates.

Get to know Canada better—she's your nearest ally.

Good Work. EVERY THIRD ONE BUYS BOND. Los Angeles Sets Record for the State and Nation. Oversubscribe Our Quota by Nine Million Dollars. Motion Picture Folk do Bit to Help Us Over Top.

With Los Angeles topping its Liberty Loan quota by $9,139,000, as against San Francisco's oversubscription of but $4,939,000, campaign workers estimated yesterday that one out of every three of our residents is a bond buyer, which is a record for the State and the nation. The total is fixed at 149,000. Official estimates of number of individual subscribers to the loan throughout the nation as fixed at Washington is "between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000. On the basis of Los Angeles city's record of individual subscribers, the nation would show a population of 105,000,000 at a total of $294,000.

At the "bank" alone $53,700 worth of bonds in small denominations were sold. Figures compiled yesterday show that the film people either sold or bought $2,103,000 worth of bonds. Nine studios had 100 per cent. records. The Lucky interests ran up a total of $294,000.

The biggest individual subscriptions were as follows: William S. Hart, $105,000; Mary Pickford, $100,000; Charlie Chaplin, $50,000; Itasca Arbuckle, $50,000; Miss Pickford telegraphed an additional subscription to the Campaign Committee, Saturday, before her arrival in the city, but the amount was not learned. The "Lucky" interests ran up a total of $294,000.

TO ABANDON BRANCH MILEAGE

Santa Fe Officially Adjudged Winner in Fight Over San Luis Rey Line.

Finis was written yesterday to the contention between the Santa Fe and the State Railroad Commission regarding the abandonment of the road's San Luis Rey branch when the commission issued an order authorizing the removal by the road of all property between San Luis Rey and San Luis Rey Junction.

During the floods of 1916 the track was washed out along this branch, and the Santa Fe abandoned operation. The commission, on petition of San Diego and other business interests, ordered the rehabilitation of the line, but the Santa Fe demurred and the case was carried to the United States Supreme Court.

The Santa Fe won, and the commission's order of yesterday is the outcome. The road was twelve miles long.

last night, the body of the dead man was being held at a point two miles east of Bailey's ranch, on the Bakewell road. Deputy Coroner Williams last night ordered that the body be brought to Los Angeles this morning. Further investigation of the case will be continued today.

NEW BURGLARY CHARGE

Man Suspected of Part in Several Crimes, Once Released, is Again Arrested.

Samuel G. Lyle, who several months ago was arrested with man who gave the name of Roger Juvet, and charged by Detectives Wood and Murphy with being one of the burglars who robbed several fashionable residences in the Wilshire district, later obtaining his release on bail while waiting trial, was arrested in Long Beach on the charge of burglary yesterday, according to the information received by the Los Angeles police.

Lyle's case was given prominence when he and his alleged partner were given their liberty through the efforts of a prominent county official, according to the statements of the police. Juvet left the jurisdiction of the court, and now is being sought by the police. Lyle was rearrested and arraigned on another charge, later being released on bail.

REPRESENTATIVES of many of California's historic Mexican families, together with a large number of Americans gathered last evening at the annual Cinco de Mayo celebration of the Spanish-American Society, in Horn's Dancing Pavilion, Eighth and Spring streets. In accordance with Mexican tradition, the event was celebrated by a true fiesta, made sparkling by the graceful figures of several of the city's foremost ballerinas. Senorita Maria Teresa Valenzuela, a recent arrival from Mexico City, danced the famous "El Mantón de Manila" of the southern republic. In addition Juan and Juanita Zorrachinas of Mission Play repete gave "La Jota," one of Spain's classic terpsichorean numbers. Senorita Rita Maria, daughter of one of the early Spanish families here, danced and sang Mexican songs. Miss Bessie Crouch, a toe dancer, represented a different school of dancing in her several numbers. In addition to these particular artists the entire Spanish ballet of the Mission Play danced.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, one of the invited guests, gave the Spanish-American question. He said that there is not at all times a definite racial understanding, but that the Mexicans are more and more coming to regard Americans as their big brothers.

That co-ordination and co-relation between the Mexican and American peoples is necessary for a true democracy was the essence of the speech delivered in Spanish by Senor Manuel Ojeda, the film actor, president of the society. He likewise emphasized the point that Americans are friends of the Mexicans and that statements to the contrary are the result of German propaganda.

The Spanish-American Society is an organization to more closely consolidate the two peoples, and to effect a mutual understanding. Many of the city's prominent Mexican and American families are members, and the affair last evening was given in celebration of the Battle of Puebla, Mexico, which was won by Mexican forces under Gen. Zaragoza over those of Maximilian in 1867. The date is a notable one in Mexican history as it marks the downfall of the Austrian Duke's attempt to found an empire.

The officers of the association are Manuel Ojeda, president; C. C. Moreno, secretary-treasurer; R. E. Bravo and J. V. Perez, vice-presidents. In charge of last night's programme were the president and Harry Sepulveda, a son of the historic family, and R. E. Bravo, chairman of the Reception Committee.

DAYLIGHT SAVING CUTS HALF-MILLION OFF BILLS.

DAYLIGHT saving in Los Angeles effected a saving of half a million dollars in our electricity bills, according to an estimate made yesterday by public service engineers. That the saving will grow as persons accustom themselves to the new idea is the consensus of opinion.

The saving in gas is comparatively small, as most gas is used for cooking, and as much cooking is done as before March 31, when, at 2 a.m. the nation's clocks were turned forward one hour.

The greatest saving in electricity is in lighting. Estimates prepared by E. P. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer for the city, shows that the saving in electricity produced and consumed will be 12 per cent., or a saving of 12,300,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity during the first six months of the new daylight saving plan. There has also been an estimated decrease in electric power generated for power purposes of 1.8 per cent.

The closing of many of the brightly lighted saloons in Los Angeles also shows in the figures. Owners of stores, office buildings, and downtown establishments generally are delighted over the new plan. The stores, for example, usually turned on their lights at 4 or 5:30 o'clock (old time). Now around it is still light and remains so until the stores close, and this saving in some cases will top 15 per cent. of many stores' electricity bills.

Pickpocket Secures Two Thousand-Dollar Bank Draft and Cash From Man.

A bank draft for $2000 and $50 in cash were removed from his person by a pickpocket yesterday afternoon while he was about to board a Venice car at Fifth and Hill streets, according to a report by J. S. Any, of No. 431 1/2 South Spring street, to the police last night. The draft is on the Farmers and Merchants Bank of this city.

M. F. Curtis, of No. 753 South Hope street, reported to the police last night that his pocket was picked of $15 in cash and a draft on the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Irwin, S. D., for $350, late yesterday evening.

KOPP FACES INTERNMENT.

Accused Musician may be Sent to Fort Douglas.

Alleged Seditious Utterances Prove Serious.

Grauman to Investigate Other Members of Staff.

Immediate internment in a government internment camp, probably Fort Douglas, Utah, was forecast by government officials yesterday as the next step in the case of Rudolph Kopp, former leader of Grauman's Theatre symphony orchestra, a musician of national reputation, who was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Smith and lodged in the County Jail late Saturday night.

While the complete details of the case against the musician were not disclosed yesterday, officials familiar with the case admitted Kopp was charged with seditious utterances, charging him specifically with violating Section 12 of the President's proclamation of April 8.

Alleged seditious remarks made to loyal members of the orchestra of which he was the leader, including statements that he hoped American soldiers would be sunk like rats in a trap, and that he used disrespectful language against President Wilson, were some of the other charges made against the musician.

Kopp, who is an Austrian, made an application for his first citizenship papers, but great suspicion had been reached by the government officials that he was well known in musical centers in America, and at one time was reported as having been offered a position of soloist with Dr. Carl Muck's Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Kopp's sensational arrest, coming at the end of the first night performance, Saturday, when Deputy Marshal Smith arrested him while he was conducting his orchestra back of the stage, came as a complete surprise to the management of the theatre, according to the statement of Sid Grauman, manager of the house.

Nothing anything that could approximate suspicion had ever reached us or anyone connected with the management, Mr. Grauman said yesterday. "I am all patriotic programmes and undertakings."

PUBLIC opinion is going to make it exceedingly uncomfortable for slackers of every kind, was the declaration of a speaker before one of the largest congregations of Los Angeles yesterday, as he urged that every citizen do his full duty in this time of stress. Other sermons on patriotic themes were given in various churches. Below are excerpts from some of yesterday's patriotic addresses.

REYNOLD E. BLIGHT, CHURCH OF THE PEOPLE.

"We are engaged in the most serious enterprise of our history. The civilization of the future depends upon the outcome of this war. Germany, with all her other misdeeds, will be autocratic, materialistic, cynical and cruel. If Anglo-American institutions based on democracy, justice and freedom are to survive, we must win this war. Every citizen should be a soldier in this great struggle. There is absolutely no alternative."

"Every man who asks exemption to which he is not properly entitled, every man or woman who does not to the limit of his ability to buy Liberty Bonds or War Savings Certificates, every waste of food or natural resource, every profiteer and exploiter of the common people, every man who indulges in strikes or industrial discontent, every person who consciously or unconsciously disobeys the law, every man who is not a citizen in our government, our military forces, or the final outcome of this war is a disaster and an enemy of the public welfare. And the slacker should be made to feel the full force of public censure."

This is a time when private prejudice and personal opinion must be forgotten in a whole-hearted support of the nation's cause. Every individual should gladly surrender his freedom of speech and action to the great cause of the world's peace. The citizen who does not give hearty co-operation in the vigorous and patriotic prosecution of the war is giving aid and comfort to the enemy and therefore is a traitor to this country."

The winning of this war will tax every last ounce of physical, mental and moral resources of the nation and the slacker must be made to feel the full weight of popular indignation."

"If there is a devil in God's world today, his proper name is not Satan, but Armed Force. Certainly when the god of armed force is worshipped by any nation, that nation becomes bedeviled. That a force-worshipping nation should perpetrate atrocities of devilish ingenuity is not remarkable, but inevitable. That such a nation should be faithful to its treaties, treacherous in its diplomacy and wily in its arts of intrigue is to be expected."

The devil of armed force convinces men that justice, righteousness and good will among men are sentimental nonsense, and that the only worthy virtues are selfishness, brutality and the will to dominate. Millions of the faithful to the Christian faith have been sacrificed for the furtherance of national ambition, are counted by the devil-worshippers as successful, and if a brotherhood, they would know that the peaceful and loving Jesus once said to the hypocrites: 'Ye are sought to interfere with His work. Ye are of your father ye devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. ANITA LOOS WANTS DIVORCE.

Only Took Her Two Days to Decide Marriage was All a Mistake.

Anita Loos, who was one of the foremost scenario writers on D. W. Griffith's staff for several years, will arrive from New York early this week to appear in a divorce action against her husband, Frank Palma.

The couple married in San Diego two years ago, but the scenario writer ended her marriage after two tempestuous days, since which she has been earning her own livelihood as a free-lance writer of motion-picture plays.

Rumors that Miss Loos is engaged to John Emerson were vigorously denied last night by her mother, who resides at the Hollywood Hotel.

"I am Proud of Them," Says
Patriotic Mother.

Elders, Rejected Once, Tries

Joins Foreign Legion, Hoping to Become Aviator.

Her name is Mrs. Edward Olivier. She is just a typical American mother—gray hair, combed back, and a face showing what all mothers face show—years of patience, self-sacrifice, unselfish service, without ever thinking of credit or praise. A typical mother.

She has been living in Los Angeles with her two sons, Edward and Frank, keeping house for them, preparing their meals, darning their socks, getting them ready for their work, and then waiting till they came home.

The war came. It was a loss up which should go to the recruiting office first, Frank, aged 26 years, or Edward, aged 33. Frank was accepted in the Twenty-third Engineers. Edward, a licensed pilot of airplanes, was rejected.

"I am certainly proud of my sons," said Mrs. Olivier. "My boy Frank writes me regularly from France, and I am so glad he is happy and I am glad for him."

She keeps all his letters in a little postbox box. In the window of the house is her service flag—one star for Frank, now in France.

But Edward, though rejected, was not to be cast down so easily. Although an experienced flyer, American army requirements call for a college education. Edward had not this education.

Next he tried the French Consulate and then the French Embassy in Washington and was encouraged to go ahead and seek a passport to France, where he can be enlisted in the Foreign Legion and eventually become an aviator.

"I am now awaiting my passport," said Edward, yesterday, "and when I get it I shall pay my own way to France and enlist. My father was of French descent and I have been trying from the very beginning to do my part for America and France."

Edward Olivier's application for a passport was accompanied by a letter from Gen. Vignal, French Military Attaché, Washington, commending him for his patriotic eagerness to serve.

FUNERAL OF CORP. WOODS.
Funeral services for Corp. Charles Clifton Woods, who died yesterday afternoon at the Soldiers' Home after a long illness, will be conducted at the Soldiers' Home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Corp. Woods leaves his mother, Mrs. L. Woods, and brother, W. D. Woods, of No. 4189 South Hoover street, and a brother and sister, F. A. Woods and Mrs. William Young, of Pueblo, Colo. He was a member of Co. M, Second Florida National Guard, and served for six months at Laredo, Tex., during the Mexican border troubles.

Faces Internment.

Kopp always appeared to be heartily interested, and had taken a part in the Liberty Bond campaign when every employee of the theater bought bonds. When the facts in the case were laid before me last night by the Federal men, I at once discharged the man."

Kopp, Mr. Grauman stated, was recommended to him as the man for the large symphony orchestra, and was selected as the best man obtainable for the position. Percy Smith, a member of the thirty-five-piece orchestra, was temporarily placed in charge pending the selection of a new leader. Mr. Grauman said, meanwhile, another investigation will be made by him with a view of making his staff "100 per cent. American."

MUCH SECRECY.
The government's case was worked up by an official of the local offices, but it was handled with such secrecy and ability that not the slightest intimation of what was to happen was made until the warrant from Washington arrived.

Kopp's wife, an American girl, yesterday made statements in which she claimed she felt certain of her husband's innocence and his loyalty, and laid the charges against him to personal persecution on the part of his professional enemies, her friends declared. Unless some unforeseen circumstances arise, however, the Federal officers here declare there will be no changes in the government's programme, and internment will be carried out at once.

Kopp was well known in Los Angeles, having been a soloist at numerous musical performances here, and a member of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra.

EMULATES CAVE MAN.
Husband is Arrested on Charge of Using Gun to Coerce Former Wife.

There are other ways of wooing an ex-wife than doing it with a gun, the police held early yesterday morning when they arrested James Powell, No. 1611 East Twenty-second street, and lodged him in the City Jail on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Powell, Detective Smith and Newletter say, entered the room at No. 918 Long Beach avenue, where his ex-wife was present among others, and in an effort to make her come with him drew a gun. When she still refused to go, he is alleged to have fired two shots at her.

WHY THEY BOUGHT LIBERTY LOAN BONDS.
A lively patriotic service was held in the Pico Heights Congregational Church, last night. A feature of the programme arranged by Rev. J. M. Schaefer, the pastor, was impromptu short talks from members of the congregation on the subject of "Why I Bought a Liberty Bond."

These short talks developed a patriotic fervor that was increased by patriotic music. Rev. Thomas Hendry, minister, introduced and sang a song, and introduced Miss Mary Crandall, who spoke on "The Armor of the American Soldier."

The Greek Easter services began Friday, with a continuous service representing the various phases of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. On Saturday night, beginning at 9 o'clock, occurred the midnight mass, lasting until 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Then, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, began the celebration of a solemn high mass, the services continuing until 5 o'clock. At the services yesterday the Mega Economos Pericles Papavasiliou, who is in charge of the Greek religious work for Southern California, and who is priest at this church, prayed fervently for God's blessing upon President Wilson and the success of the American and Allied arms. Over the church floated both the American and the Greek flag.

At the service of the high mass yesterday an interesting sight was presented. There are no seats in the body of the church, and the men and women stand during the entire service. For the aged or infirm, and for children, there are high seats ranged along the wall, where they may rest for a few moments, and then take their places with the other worshippers standing in the center of the room. Each person bears a lighted candle during the service, and as the smaller ones burn out, they are renewed from a stock that is kept at the main portal of the church.

At the close of the service, candies and colored eggs were distributed to the children, and each person bore away a blooming plant, in accordance with a Greek Easter custom.

PORTERVILLE, May 5.—At their annual picnic which was held at Luther Burbank Park today members of the Porterville Association of the Deaf adopted resolutions declaring many deaf mutes are fitted for service of the government in various departments of the military service. Demand was made on the War Department that special questionnaires be issued to deaf mutes throughout the country with a view to giving them an opportunity to aid the government in the successful prosecution of the war with Germany.

Mutes from all parts of the State were in attendance at the gathering and a number of addresses were made in the sign language.

"For Church, Country and Home."

Megas Economos Pericles Papavasiliou blesses Greek service men.

MARTIAL TOUCH GIVEN OBSERVANCE.

GREEK SERVICE MEN JOIN COUNTRYMEN IN SOLEMN EASTER SERVICES.

Greek Catholics of Los Angeles, augmented by an influx of Greek men in the uniform of Uncle Sam, combined religion and patriotism in their observance of the Easter tide, which closed last evening. For three days the Greek colony has been honoring its men who have gone into service under the American flag, and they have also observed with elaborate ceremony the Greek Easter.

Sixty of the Greek soldiers, who came up from Camp Kearny Friday, received a holy communion at the hands of the priest in charge of the Evangelos Tis Theotou Kou, or St. Mary's Church, on San Julian street, between Twelfth and Pico streets. Last night they were given a banquet by the Greek Community, an incorporated association, at the Greek clubrooms on East Fourth street, and the principal speakers were C. Marchetti, editor of the Echo, the Greek newspaper of Los Angeles, and N. D. Dakis, an attorney from Salt Lake.

The Greek Easter services began Friday, with a continuous service representing the various phases of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. On Saturday night, beginning at 9 o'clock, occurred the midnight mass, lasting until 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Then, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, began the celebration of a solemn high mass, the services continuing until 5 o'clock. At the services yesterday the Mega Economos Pericles Papavasiliou, who is in charge of the Greek religious work for Southern California, and who is priest at this church, prayed fervently for God's blessing upon President Wilson and the success of the American and Allied arms. Over the church floated both the American and the Greek flag.

At the service of the high mass yesterday an interesting sight was presented. There are no seats in the body of the church, and the men and women stand during the entire service. For the aged or infirm, and for children, there are high seats ranged along the wall, where they may rest for a few moments, and then take their places with the other worshippers standing in the center of the room. Each person bears a lighted candle during the service, and as the smaller ones burn out, they are renewed from a stock that is kept at the main portal of the church.

PORTERVILLE, May 5.—At their annual picnic which was held at Luther Burbank Park today members of the Porterville Association of the Deaf adopted resolutions declaring many deaf mutes are fitted for service of the government in various departments of the military service. Demand was made on the War Department that special questionnaires be issued to deaf mutes throughout the country with a view to giving them an opportunity to aid the government in the successful prosecution of the war with Germany.

Mutes from all parts of the State were in attendance at the gathering and a number of addresses were made in the sign language.

ADOPT BREAD CARDS; BOYCOTT THE BAKERS.

LINDSAY, May 5.—Perfection of a system of bread and wheat cards, put into effect by grocers of Lindsay, and the refusal later of the bakers to sell goods on the card system has resulted in an organized community boycott.

Pledges are being put in circulation and are being generally signed in which householders agree to abstain from purchase of any wheat flour, substitutes or flour products of any kind from any institution which has not observed the voluntary card system.

Spring Find You Worn and Achy?

DO YOU feel dull, tired, achy all over—back feel as if it would break? Are you all "played out"—feel as if you just can't keep going? Then it's time you looked to your kidneys! Winter with its chills and changes throws a heavy strain on the kidneys. Spring finds you full of mysterious aches and pains; you are nervous, dizzy, irritable and "blue." You may have kidney irregularities, too. Don't wait! Help the weakened kidneys before serious kidney trouble takes hold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has helped so many Los Angeles people.

William H. Keller, grocer, 901 East Pico street, gave the following account of his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills on January 15, 1916: "It is just ten years since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills. I had been suffering with kidney and bladder trouble. There was a dull, tiring ache in my back and through my loins, especially if I sat still for a little while. I had to get up often to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me so much I have always used them when I have needed a kidney remedy."	Mrs. John Bear, 122 North Soto street, says: "No one knows how miserable kidney trouble will make a person feel until they have had an attack of it. A few years ago my kidneys were in bad shape. Any cold or damp weather made my suffering worse. I could hardly stand the pain and aching in my back. Headaches, dizzy spells, bladder disorders and many other symptoms of kidney trouble made my life miserable. That is the condition I was in before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's soon put an end to the trouble and I have felt fine ever since."	Wm. Fields, foreman at Fuller Glass Works, 1674 East Thirty-eighth street, says: "I don't know what caused my kidneys to give me so much trouble. At first I only had backache and a weak feeling across the small of my back, but before long that trouble became mighty serious. I could hardly bend over, my back was so stiff and lame, and it was almost impossible for me to lift anything heavy. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of the complaint and I gladly recommend them."
East Forty-fifth Street	Compton Avenue	East Forty-second Street
Mrs. L. G. Barrow, 1182 East Forty-fifth street, says: "I can surely speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills for when I used them they were more than satisfactory. My kidneys never gave me any trouble until a few months ago. The trouble started with a sharp pain in the small of my back. Before long the pains were awful and I felt miserable all over. My housework, such as ironing and washing or anything which made me bend over was awfully hard, for it hurt my back that trouble was caused by a cold which had settled on my kidneys. A friend told me how good Doan's Kidney Pills were and I tried them. One box of Doan's cured me."	John A. Severance, 4233 Compton avenue, says: "So much jarring and jolting on the railroad weakened my kidneys. I suffered all the time with an ache in the small of my back and the muscles of my back seemed to be sore, especially mornings, when I could hardly bend over. My kidneys did not act often enough, and when I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them. After I had used Doan's Kidney Pills a little while I was relieved. It wasn't long before all the pains had left me and I was entirely cured."	Mrs. J. E. Habersham, 1438 East Forty-second street, says: "When I was living in England I suffered dreadfully with kidney trouble. The trouble seemed to affect my sight and sometimes I could hardly see. I was often so dizzy I couldn't go about my housework and when these spells came on suddenly I had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My kidneys were awfully weak and that's what caused the trouble. I was soon cured and for that reason I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

ABUSED.
A Secretary Baker says no limit should be placed on the size of the army to be sent overseas. Thank God, Newton Diehl Baker is awakening to the necessities of the hour.

DIG DAYS.
Secretary Baker asks Congress for an appropriation of $15,000,000,000, and he will get it. This is the day of big things. Uncle Sam has finally made up his mind that there is no use in making two bites of the German cherry.

A FATEFUL EVENT.
Three years Tuesday since the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland, with a loss of 1200 non-combatants, including more than 100 Americans. What a tragic history has been written since that fateful day!

A CAPITAL OPERATION.
If you are surprised and deprived of your morning nap by the neighbor's rooster all you have to do is to cut a cord in the bird's neck and then when he goes through the motions of crowing he makes no sound.
It would not be a bad idea to perform a similar operation on Frank Henry.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED.
John D. Ryan has been formally nominated to have charge of the nation's aircraft programme. There was a time when to have men like Ryan, Schwab and Stiethins to be in the lead of such activities would be the signal for the charge of a part of the press that Wall Street was running the war.

THE WHY OF IT.
Some people do not see the force of being asked to save food when some of the substitutes cost more than the originals.
The fallacy lies in the assumption that the drive of the Food Administration is to save money. Abstinence from the use of certain food products is for the purpose of saving them for the use of our fighters and allies.

A REMEDY FOR SPEEDING.
It would be very agreeable if all the speed fiends and careless drivers could be put into a canvas bag and have their heads knocked together; but unfortunately it is seldom that two speed bugs collide. In New York the attempt is being made to pass a law which will require that each driver brought in for speeding or recklessness shall promptly lose his machine license. No second chance allowed. It is a rather severe proposition, but it is remedial and might be recommended to Los Angeles.

WHAT WAS IT?
The day was drawing to a close.
Judge, jurors, witnesses and lawyers were growing weary. Counsel for the prosecution says the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph was cross-examining the defendant.
"Exactly how far is it between the two towns?" he asked at length.
"For some time Paddy stood thinking, then
"About four miles as the cry flows," came the answer.
"You mean as the flow cries?" corrected
the man of the law.
The judge leaned forward. "No," he remarked sternly, "he means as the fly crows."

And they all looked at one another, feeling that something was wrong somewhere.

BACK TO NATURE.
So you've finally decided to eat what you want, when you want it—and when you can get it? That sounds hopeful. For years you've been following Dr. Faddist, Dr. Fast, Dr. No-meat, Dr. Water-cure and a dozen others. You've been trying to cerealize your stomach and make a canary out of yourself, you've been eating hay like a horse, you've fasted and vegetarized and hot-watered yourself until it's a wonder you have any stomach left. And all the time you've been scared half sick because of what you ate or what you didn't eat.
If at last you've learned to use your instinct and your common sense in regard to diet it's a good sign that you still have a chance of escaping the asylum.

DEAN MACCORMACK.
The Very Rev. William MacCormack, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, yesterday celebrated the close of his tenth year as rector of St. Paul's, and there was a noteworthy demonstration in his honor. Dean MacCormack has become one of the leaders of community life in Los Angeles, apart from his church work. He has seen his congregation grow large and its benefecence increase wonderfully in these ten years of a happy and frictionless pastorate;
he enjoys the love and admiration of his people, and he is a favorite in fraternal circles; but, beyond all that, he has become recognized as one of our first citizens as well as one of our foremost orators—as a doer of things when things are needed to be done, as well as a sayer of things when things are needed to be said. The Times has watched his career with interest and is venturesome enough to remark that it expects to see the dean some day in the vestments of a bishop.

AMERICAN ACHIEVEMENT.

"Over the top with the third Liberty Loan; fully subscribed and more than a billion to spare." This cheering message has been flashed to our gallant Allies holding so valiantly the bloody banner that stretches from the English Channel to the Swiss border. Cheers for the Americans are echoing among the Lorraine hills. Burrowed deep in their holes, the Huns heard the shouts with which the news was received along the Allied line in Picardy;
they heard and it sounded like the yell of shock troops coming over. In the French hamlets and villages behind the lines the dispatches have been read, and many a desolate wife and solitary mother has thanked "Le bon Dieu" that America did not falter in the face of the great Hun drive, but hastened its stride.

German propagandists had been assiduously spreading rumors among the civil population of the Allied and neutral countries that American purse strings would tighten before the prospect of a long and costly war. There was never a question among us on the home front that we were in for a fight to a finish with the Hun; but the European populations had never seen American courage put to the test. This morning the Allies know the best, and the Huns the worst. Each knows that it is not the government leaders at Washington, or the bankers of Wall Street that are fighting the war, but the whole American people;
that we are throwing into this struggle every ounce of vigor and perseverance we possess. We are fully cognizant of the fact that the safety of democracy rests upon its ability to fight and we are arming to give a demonstration of that ability which no Junker will ever forget. Faith, courage and sacrifice are necessary to secure the final triumph of democracy. Thanks to the patrimony we have received from our forebears, America possesses them all.

II.
Dispatches from Washington reveal that the number of subscribers to the Liberty Loan will probably total 15,000,000 and that every Federal reserve district in the nation has subscribed its quota. It is especially gratifying to note that, in the districts where the German-born population is greatest, the loan has been heavily oversubscribed.
Patriotic Americans of German birth or ancestry have plainly made heroic sacrifices to wipe out the stain of the racialist hyphenates who have displayed the true Junker trait of biting the hand that fed them. California has gone over the top with a margin of probably $50,000,000. The honor flag of Los Angeles city floats proudly above the soldiers' monument in Central Park. The city has a record of $23,000,000 asked and $35,000,000 subscribed. Los Angeles county more than doubled its quota and two other Southern California counties, Imperial and Ventura, gave three dollars for every dollar asked. A report issued three months ago by the Army Intelligence Bureau estimated that there was a greater percentage of pacifists in Los Angeles than in any other city in the country. The response made here to the call for subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan proves that the idea of pacifism has receded with gratifying swiftness; for it is now estimated that a larger percentage of the residents of Los Angeles now own Liberty bonds than of any other city of equal size in the nation. In the country at large 15,000,000 citizens have moved up into the capitalistic, bond-holding class within ninety days.

III.
At the beginning of the second year of American participation President Wilson turned over a new leaf and wrote at the top of the page the names of Charles M.
Schwab, head of the Shipping Board, and John D. Ryan, Director of Aircraft Production. Assurance has been given that these appointments signal a reorganization of all the important war departments and that politicians must give way to men of brains and experience. Secretary Baker has returned home from the western front fully imbued with the war spirit. He has asked Congress for 3,000,000 more conscripts and America is preparing rapidly to throw 5,000,000 men into the fight.

On earth, sea and air, America is getting ready to strike with its full force. Junker-ism, Bolshevism and Syndicalism are to be eradicated as maladies dangerous to civilization. The peace that ends the present struggle must be one of restorations and guarantees. America is to enter with the other great democracies into an international agreement for the permanent maintenance of peace among nations, with full protection of the autonomy of every people, with the permanent rule of law and justice—an agreement under which no nation can hereafter wage war without the consent of others. Once having entered the lists she will never withdraw until this purpose has been accomplished. To despoil her only terms are unconditional surrender.

IV.
"Beware of democracy; it is contagious," wrote Trotsky, the favorite historian of the Junkers. Aye, it is a malady that attacks sooner or later all despotic aristocracies.
Trotsky's warning was prophetic. The forces of democracy are all afield; they have been slow to assemble, but once allieved they will never lay down their arms until their purpose has been accomplished.
"There are lesser nations destined to new food and new water for the dominant nations. If they cannot fill this office, they must perish." So spoke Rudolph Ruch, a favorite mouthpiece of the Junkers. If the Junker programme of world conquest were to be carried out, the United States would be among those destined to hew the wood and draw the water for Prussian overlords.
But the Junkers are in a fair way to learn that political slavery and human slavery have been forever abolished from every land above which floats the Stars and Stripes.

"Force, force to the utmost, force without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust." Such were the closing words of President Wilson's address in Baltimore on April 6, announcing America's programme for the second year of the war. The American people have responded by a voluntary subscription sufficient to put this force into effect. It was a choice of back up the government or back down to the Hun. The unprecedented success of the Third Liberty Loan is the answer.

The Blow Almost Killed Father!

THAT AIRCRAFT SCANDAL.

Admitting the loss of a year's time in useless aircraft experimentation, President Wilson has relieved Gen. George O. Squier of further aircraft duty and has nominated John D. Ryan, recognized captain of industry, to be chairman of the Aircraft Board.
Commenting on the failure of Gen. Squier to display fitness for the high important post to which he was appointed the New York Times observes: "The opportunity to organize victory knocked at the door of the wrong man. He had been a military attache at London before the war and danced well. No mystery is more impenetrable than that surrounding the designation of Gen. Squier to build myriads of airplanes and train legions of flying men at an expense of billions of dollars. His failure to make even a good beginning on the job was tragic for the country, and it was cause for jubilation in Germany."

Senator King asserted on the floor of the Senate that he considered it a "sacred duty to make further investigation and fasten the responsibility for the failure of the aviation programme." He then added in the midst of impressive silence, "I have heard that someone should be shot in connection with the delinquent production." While there is no disposition to question the loyalty or the good intentions of Gen. Squier, there is a growing conviction that his administrative incapacity permitted political profiteering and, possibly, treacherous thefts totaling several hundred million dollars.

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut has offered a Senate resolution directing further official inquiry with a view of determining whether criminal prosecution should be brought. Secretary of War Baker has ac-knowledgeed the receipt of a report made on aircraft production to President Wilson by Gutson Borglum, the sculptor, on aircraft production charging the criminal misuse of Federal appropriations.

Two months ago The Times observed editorially that everything concerned with the aviation programme seemed up in the air but the airplanes. A delivery of four airplanes where 2500 had been promised is a performance well calculated to lend aid and comfort to the enemy. What matters most, however, is that twelve months of time has been captured, as it were, by the enemy;
and time that must be redeemed by the blood of a hundred thousand defenders of democracy. German troops now occupy whole districts in France that they would never have captured if 2500 American aviators had been on duty above the Allied lines.
The past is dead and with it thousands of gallant men whose lives have paid the penalty of the blunders of those in charge of American aircraft production. But the future is ours. Bull Run was redeemed at Gettysburg; Chancellorsville, at the Marne; Cam-bray, on the Flemish hills; and it is for Mr.
Ryan and Brig-Gen. Kenly to redeem in the second year of the war the promises broken by Mr. Coffin and Gen. Squier.

President Wilson has displayed the right spirit in appointing men of proved ability to reorganize the aircraft division. Like Mr. Schwab, Mr. Ryan is not an experimenter.
The President is learning that party loyalty and good intentions cannot be substitutes for brains and technical knowledge. There are big men with loyal hearts, capable of making good every promise to our allies concerning American participation. If the President and his immediate advisers will only look for them. But they are not to be found in the ranks of the professional politicians who are hanging about Washington hunting for jobs.

And Mr. President, have no mercy on the grafters—they are the worst traitors of all in these hours of stress and sacrifice.
What a black heart a man or woman must have who can graft on funds raised for the nation's defense and the needs of its defenders!

A POULTRY PUZZLE.

Many of the season's incubator chickens indicate a distressing weakness of stock. Hundreds of them seem unable to take up the stern business of life. They turn up their little toes and are buried under the daisies. Many of these little backyard tragedies are blamed upon the circumstances that the mother bird—the hen that laid the egg—is undernourished. She has not been able to command her wonted ration of wheat, corn and other strength-building grains and therefore her offspring lack their accustomed vitality. Poultry owners complain that they can no longer get the coarse bran with which they were supplementing the menu of their flocks.
The bran they can get hints heavily of sawdust, green corn cobs or other "filler."
The birds indicate no feverish enthusiasm in tackling it. Cornmeal mixtures have come up to about eight cents a pound.
Wheat and hulled barley are virtually prohibited and practically everything that goes into the interior decoration of a hen is almost a luxury on the family dining-table.
The result is that the feathered flocks go hungry, or else have a bill of fare that does not sustain life—and not much else.
From this it follows that the rising generation is weak and deficient in vigor. They are not healthfully competent to withstand the trials and turmoils of existence and so they are daily passing up the problem in large numbers. It is a trying task for the American hen to save the breakfast table under the conditions she has to contend with. Every time anyone tries to give her anything substantial to eat the price either becomes prohibitive or some commissioner puts a bar upon its use. If she doesn't get a square meal occasionally her chicks are too weak to hustle for themselves.

Lucid Testimony.
"The average individual," said a Scotland Yard official, "can't give a detective simple, plain, straightforward information. Queried by a detective, he becomes as involved and difficult as the office boy. A detective asked an office boy if it was Mr.
Jones or his partner who reached the office first the boy said:
"Well," said the boy, turning very red,
"Mr. Jones at first was always last, but later he began to get earlier, till at last he was first, though before he had always been last."
He soon got later again, though, and late he has been sooner, and at last he's got behind as before. But I expect he'll be getting earlier sooner or later."—(Rochester Evening Times.)

NO MORE BOREDOM.
Whatever the evil gifts which war carries in her hands she brings one good one, the best possible cure for boredom, which is work for idle hands to do.
To thousands of American women whose leisure was a burden because they did not understand the priorities of peace the work of war is itself a recreation that takes the place of dancing and cards and restaurants. And the work of war which is done in the home, the quiet, unostentatious freeing of materials and labor, is as important a war work as nursing or Red Cross service.
Measure your time as you do your money;
leave a margin for companionship and recreation—for whatever to you is recreation —and then add the gift of your leisure to the loan of your savings. Your country needs them both. —Edith J. R. Isaacs, in Good Housekeeping.

Although "many Socialists expressed their regret" at the action of the authorities, the patriotic civil officers of San Diego refuse to allow Lincoln Steffens to deliver an address in that city. Those who in the recent past have been guilty of criticizing and defaming the United States and the government can hardly be considered safe any longer, regardless of their present apparent attitude. The country is at last waking up. There is to be no more foot-lessness.

HARRY WILLIAMS
ON SINN FEINERS.

Selfishness and Disloyalty of the Irreconcilables.
BY HARRY WILLIAMS.
(Staff Correspondence of The Times.)
PARIS, April 15.—Believing it only right that their kinsmen across the sea should know how the Irish are "carrying on," I took occasion while in Great Britain to investigate the Irish question.

Being part Irish I was particularly interested, and having no English blood in my veins probably can speak with a frankness that otherwise would be in bad taste.
Where there is so much belly-aching I figured that there must be some pain, but all efforts to locate the cause of the pain were futile.
Ireland today is freer than New York State, and in fact than England herself. She has not and is not bearing her share of the world's burden in this war, and her attitude is one of supreme selfishness. Never before in the history of peoples has there been such an example of unadulterated selfishness. At a time when civilization itself is fighting for its life, a part of Ireland insists on obtruding its own quarrels on the world to the exclusion of bigger and broader issues.

Incidentally, these Sinn Feiners, who are causing most of the commotion, bear no more resemblance in thought and ideals to my Irish friends in America than I do to the Germans.
In Ireland the Kaiser has been cheered, and the uniform of our soldiers has been hissed.
The Sinn Feiners are a proud and proud people—some of them too proud to work. For this class a country with no work and free booms would be the elysium of their dreams. And the Great Britain could grant this condition the agitators would soon quit their being and lapse into a condition of blissful semi-consciousness.
It is just as well that these things
be known in the United States, where a sort of self-imposed myr-tyrdom by the Irish has been humored.

There is little analogy between Ireland and Poland. The latter was an ancient kingdom torn asunder by autocratic neighbors. Ireland, per contra, when conquered by Henry II,
the Plantagenet king of England,
consisted of a number of different tribes engaged mainly in killing one another. However, the right or wrong of this ancient squabble is of no matter to us to revive in the world's present condition. Seven hundred years have intervened and in that time English law and influence and language have gradually supplanted the native Gaelic. Therefore, the Irish look and act more like Americans than Germans. One shudder to think what would have been the result had Ireland been under German rule since the eighteenth century. Of course, better things might have been the self-development of Ireland, but that she did not do so happily in the old days is fact of events and evolution of laws and governments has been her misfortune rather than England's gain.

In reality England would be much better without Ireland except for the fact that the latter's pronounced pro-German tendencies make her now an unsafe and disturbing neighbor.
Ireland has been wronged, but in the past few generations every effort has been made to right those wrongs, with the result that Ireland is favored as few countries.
The English have been in the eighteenth century at the hands of the English protectionists, who wished to keep the trade for themselves.
The amalgamation of the two extremes removed this grievance.
Very great wrongs were committed against the Irish Catholics during the Protestant ascendancy, but these disappeared with the Catholic emancipation act of 1829.

Modern England has striven, I believe, to be fair with Ireland, and with a desire to placate her and right her wrongs has granted her some exceptional favors.
Ireland has not been treated as a subject nation, and enjoys the same freedom in local affairs as Scotland and England. Also, she has great power in Parliament, due to being permitted over-representation. Would she be allowed such favors under German domination, where she will be a subject nation, I can't say.
Hardly. Instead, she will look like a deuce against four axes.

How Ireland has fared under the present arrangement is shown unanswerably in the following words of the Irish Nationalist Party itself in a memorandum published by that party on May 10, 1916:
"Two-thirds of the entire land of the country has passed into the hands of the people. . . . Tens of thousands of cottages have been built all over Ireland, in which, at a moderate rent and with a portion of the Irish laborers have been transformed from the worst-housed, worst-clothed, and worst-fed class in Europe into the best-housed, the most comfortable, and the most independent body of laborers in the world. . . . In so far as the local government of Ireland is concerned, it has been wrested from the landlords, and is now in entire possession of the people with chairmen and members freely chosen by the people themselves."

Regardless of the merits of the problems under discussion, Ireland's duty in the present crisis is plain.
It cannot be expected that the sintagm of centuries should be effaced in four years. However, at a time like this, Ireland might forget England. America warred with both France and England, and yet is fighting with them shoulder to shoulder.
This is not England's war. It is the world's war against the most soulless autocracy of all time, and in the past Ireland always has aligned herself against world domination. And her interests have always been interlinked with those of France. The suggestion that she form a separate Irish army under Irish commanders to fight with the French has not met with any response.
Is the Irish chivalry of song and verse dead? Has the generous spirit of Ireland choked up in selfishness? I think not. Most of the real Irish are in America. The Sinn Feiners are a mob representing nothing except their own narrow self-interest, and apparently they have not saved a freedom that discounts law and order and responsibility. I hope the loyal Irishmen of America will read the riot act to their rebellious cousins overseas.

A DOUGHBOY'S LETTER TO THE KAISER.

"An American Doughboy," in an open letter to the Kaiser, tells him why the Americans are in France and why they are going to stay there until the war is won. He sums up his indictment:
"I've finished with fire, sword and iron and a country whose neutrality you were sworn to respect—Belgium.
"In Belgium and Northern France you visited upon the natives such crimes as would make the tortures practiced by savage tribesmen seem meager by comparison.
"By your orders fathers of families were lined up against walls, and shot in the sight of their offspring.
"Nursing mothers were hacked about the body and their children impaled on the ground.
"Young girls were forced into a condition worse than slavery, worse than death—and then branded with the red cross of Prussian shame.
"Young men and old were deported from their native land to work for you as no slaves in any land belonged to a miserable wage, while fed on insufficient food.
"Children in arms were left to perish without nourishment, and those of less tender age were left to die
for themselves in a shell-wrecked, flame-ridden country.
"On land you revived the horrible practice of crucifixion and applied it to prisoners of war.
"You practiced other mutilation and disfigurement upon prisoners.
"You incited your non-Christian allies, the Turks, to massacre thousands upon thousands of helpless Armenian and Syrian Christians.
"You lent yourself to a deliberate campaign of murder, openly urged Mexico and Japan, two countries with which our nation was at peace, to make war upon us.
"You tried to poison our press, our Congress, our public men with your lies about our present allies.
"You set up a corruption fund of $50,000, 000 for the subversion of the legislative department of our government.
"You organized strikes, fomented plots, tried in every way to cripple productive industry in our own country. You attempted, on a large scale, to incite a considerable proportion of our population to rise against the rest of us.
"You ordered us to keep off the high seas under pain of being torpeded—unless we followed your illegal and ridiculous regulations as to the manner of marking and sending our ships.
"In short, you have, for the last three years and half, ignored neither men, women nor innocent children in your scheme of making war.
"You have preached 'fraternalism' everywhere, and everywhere you have practiced what you have preached.
"You have blasphemously proclaimed God to be your ally, and have exhorted your troops to maintain, by the sword, the name of the good old German God! You have made God out to be a God of cruelty and oppression, even as the savages have—whereas, we know that our God is a God of love and freedom.
"You have poisoned well indeed
in the occupied districts of Northern France; but, even worse than that,
you have poisoned the wells of truth
for the entire world.
"That, in brief, is why we are over-here—that is why we are against
you. That is why we will, in concert with the other civilized nations of the world, have you and your power to work such evil is no more.
And not until that has been done will we go home."—[Stars and Stripes.]

Latest Activities in the Fields of Oil, Mines and Finance Briefly Reviewed.

RE-ELECT TOM REED OFFICERS.

Former Directors are Chosen for Another Term.
Superintendent of the Mine Presents Report.
Cost of Operation Slightly Lower than Last Year.

OATMAN (Ariz.) May 5.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Tom Reed Gold Mines Company April 29, the old board of directors was re-elected and J. W. Roach, a large stockholder of Pasadena, added to fill up the quota. A total of 400,000 shares were represented, of which 35,555 outstanding. It is predicted that the company will produce the great amount of oil necessary to carry on the war and to keep alive the needed industry of the country. There was no desire to interfere without necessity, but he added, that if patriotism was to bring the desired result, or if the operators were unable for any reason to get the best returns, then the government possessed ample power to apply compulsion or to force the government to take, provided only, that it should be necessary in order to win the war.

The prospect of an early settlement of the oil land controversy and increase of 25 cents in the price of crude oil have brought about a feeling of hopefulness in the ranks of oil producers greater than has been experienced for many years past.

GENERAL LEASING BILL.
The legislation for the opening of the naval oil reserves is not affected by and does not touch in any way upon the field of the general oil leasing bill fathered by Senators Walsh and Pittman, and now pending in the House of Representatives, after having been passed by the Senate. It is still before the Public Lands Committee. Under its provisions the California lands outside the naval reserve but within the area withdrawn from entry in September, 1909, will be opened to development under leases to claimants and the same will be leased to the Federal Government for the last five years will be diminished.

YOUNG GRANDMOTHER.
Mrs. Laura Cook of Terra Haute believes she is the youngest grandmother in Indiana, a son having been born to her son when she is but 24. Her son, Owen, is 18, and his wife is not yet 13.

OIL MEN SURE TO GET STEEL.
Operators Assured of Supplies, but Hoarding is Under Ban.
Anxiety among oil operators over the steel shortage announced from Washington that a new and more drastic order as to the supplying of steel products to any but the most essential war industries has been relieved somewhat by the statement last Wednesday to the members of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency by Thomas A. O'Donnell, chief of the producing division of the National Oil Administration. Coming right from Washington, Mr. O'Donnell said that whatever happened there was every reason to get oil producers to be able to get the supplies actually needed for immediate use, as the occasion arises, but there will be no hoarding of supplies allowed. For instance, if a producer needs a steel cable to drill at once, he will be able to get it, but he will not be able to buy three or four and store them for future use.

During the past few weeks the supply situation in the oil fields has eased considerably, and there is enough material to work with, although its price is high.

PRODUCTION OF OIL LESS.
Daily Output in State Fields Declines and is Below the Shipments.
Production of oil in California fields for March of 267,729 barrels per day is approximately 5000 barrels per day less than that recorded for February. Shipments during March of 284,195 barrels per day show a small decline, but are still considerably in excess of production.

Stocks were decreased $29.082 barrels; fifty-one new wells were completed with an initial daily production of 7700 barrels.

NORTH END MINES TURN OUT MUCH ORE.
HIGH COST OF MATERIALS AND LABOR SHORTAGE FAIL TO HALT DEVELOPMENT.
VIRGINIA CITY (Nev.) May 5.—Four north-end mines, the United Consolidated, Ophir, Consolidated Virginia and Sierra Nevada, are producing profitable ore, and the Mexican will resume production in a short time. The product from the active yielders is going to the Mexican mill, but a considerable amount of ore is being stored, pending enlargement of the plant, as it is running to capacity largely on Union Consolidated quartz. New equipment will be provided as fast as it can be obtained, and all the active mines are in shape to heavily increase their output.

Conditions are highly satisfactory in the district, despite the high cost of materials and labor. Miners are now receiving $5 per day, but the excellent grade of ore exposed in the lower levels, together with $1 silver, has compensated for increased operating expenses. Union Consolidated disbursed dividend No. 6 on May 1, at the rate of 5 cents per share, making $100,000 distributed to stockholders since January 1.

The Union Consolidated is now producing excellent ore from several points on the 2400 and 2500-foot levels, and indications are excellent for early production from the 2200 and 2600-foot levels. Approximately 300 tons of ore assaying close to $25 per ton are going weekly to the Mexican mill, where it is mixed with lower-grade material from the Union dumps.

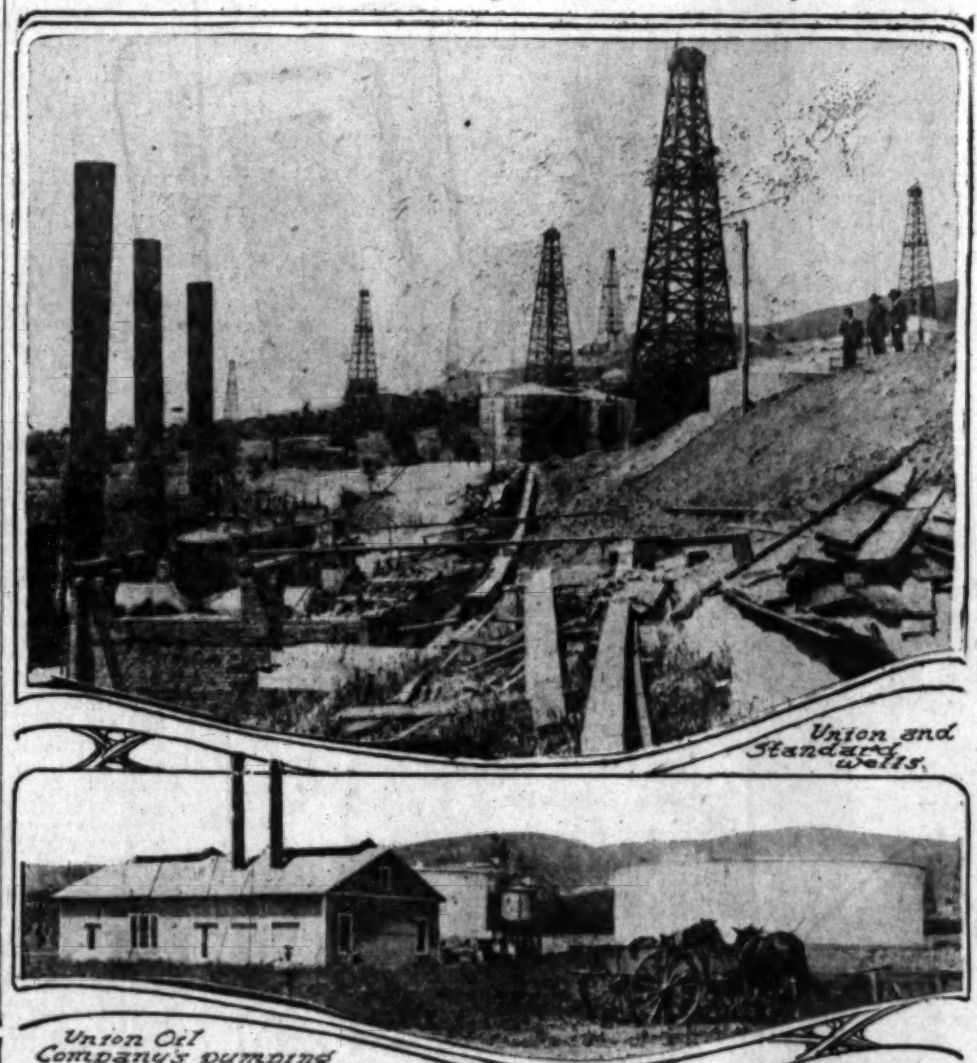

Good ore is being drawn from old stops and new workings on the 2400-foot level of the Ophir, and in the Sierra Nevada, where the work is advancing with every indication favorable for opening of an important deposit of rich ore. Work is advancing from the 2000, 2100, 2200 and 2700-foot levels of the Consolidated Virginia, and the management is completing preparations for a daily output of fifty tons. Ore sampling $15 to $19 per ton is being sent to the Mexican mill, but production is restricted by inability of the plant to take care of a steady output on a heavier basis in the drift.

MARKET UNITED EASTERN GOLD ORE.
The gold ore market looks firm at present prices, and if the general market improves, it is expected to see higher prices soon.

DEVELOPMENT OF NAVAL OIL RESERVES URGED.

Operators Will Journey to Washington in Interests of Plan.

DELEGATIONS from all the leading companies interested in naval oil reserve lands already represented at Washington have started for the national capital to urge the passage of the compromise legislation agreed to by Secretary Daniels upon the showing that a grave fuel crisis is threatening the industries of the entire Pacific Coast. All reports from the capital agree in saying that the naval reserves will be developed at once; that, within the next sixty days, either by the private enterprise of the claimants to the land or by the government through the oil division of the Fuel Administration. There appears to be no possible question about this.

The change of attitude on the part of Secretary Daniels has been the most startling development of the situation, and the one great factor that above all else has brought within sight the end of the six years of litigation that has been an unfortunate in its effects upon the oil industry and upon all California. There is evidence that every division of the National Oil Administration, himself a California operator, personally familiar with every detail of the situation, has been a strong factor in bringing matters to a head.

Unless there is an immediate agreement reached between the national reserve land claimants and the government, National Oil Director Regua has made it clear that he will recommend the commandeering of all lands in dispute lying within the limits of the naval reserves, and their intensive development by the government. Information from high authority brought direct from Washington is that there is not the least ground for fearing that an attempt will be made to commandeer the entire industry of California, or that Chairman Regua of the War Industries Board has any intention of recommending such a course. The report that Mr. Regua and representatives of California oil and of various industries, on the Pacific Coast, are threatened to do so is not taken seriously. No reason for such drastic action exists, and it would be contrary to the entire policy which has been pursued at Washington in regard to the management of all war industries. However, it is worthy of note that while American precedent exists, and it would be contrary to the entire policy which has been pursued at Washington in regard to the management of all war industries. However, it is worthy of note that while American precedent exists, and it would be contrary to the entire policy which has been pursued at Washington in regard to the management of all war industries.

PATENTED LAND UNDISTURBED.
The compromise legislation disposes entirely of the proposal in the Swanton bill, originally upheld by Secretary Daniels, that the government should commandeer the whole of the two naval reserves, patented lands and all, paying for them either at a price agreed upon between the government and the claimants, or which might be fixed by the courts. It seems hard to believe that he authors of this bill ever seriously expected it to be enacted into law. The opinion is expressed by some that it was never intended to serve for any purpose except to start a move in the direction desired by the Navy Department to force matters to a head. If so, the move appears to have been successful.

RE-ELECT TOM REED OFFICERS.

Former Directors are Chosen for Another Term.
Superintendent of the Mine Presents Report.
Cost of Operation Slightly Lower than Last Year.

OATMAN (Ariz.) May 5.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Tom Reed Gold Mines Company April 29, the old board of directors was re-elected and J. W. Roach, a large stockholder of Pasadena, added to fill up the quota. A total of 400,000 shares were represented, of which 35,555 outstanding. It is predicted that the company will produce the great amount of oil necessary to carry on the war and to keep alive the needed industry of the country. There was no desire to interfere without necessity, but he added, that if patriotism was to bring the desired result, or if the operators were unable for any reason to get the best returns, then the government possessed ample power to apply compulsion or to force the government to take, provided only, that it should be necessary in order to win the war.

The prospect of an early settlement of the oil land controversy and increase of 25 cents in the price of crude oil have brought about a feeling of hopefulness in the ranks of oil producers greater than has been experienced for many years past.

GENERAL LEASING BILL.
The legislation for the opening of the naval oil reserves is not affected by and does not touch in any way upon the field of the general oil leasing bill fathered by Senators Walsh and Pittman, and now pending in the House of Representatives, after having been passed by the Senate. It is still before the Public Lands Committee. Under its provisions the California lands outside the naval reserve but within the area withdrawn from entry in September, 1909, will be opened to development under leases to claimants and the same will be leased to the Federal Government for the last five years will be diminished.

YOUNG GRANDMOTHER.
Mrs. Laura Cook of Terra Haute believes she is the youngest grandmother in Indiana, a son having been born to her son when she is but 24. Her son, Owen, is 18, and his wife is not yet 13.

Operators Assured of Supplies, but Hoarding is Under Ban.
Anxiety among oil operators over the steel shortage announced from Washington that a new and more drastic order as to the supplying of steel products to any but the most essential war industries has been relieved somewhat by the statement last Wednesday to the members of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency by Thomas A. O'Donnell, chief of the producing division of the National Oil Administration. Coming right from Washington, Mr. O'Donnell said that whatever happened there was every reason to get oil producers to be able to get the supplies actually needed for immediate use, as the occasion arises, but there will be no hoarding of supplies allowed. For instance, if a producer needs a steel cable to drill at once, he will be able to get it, but he will not be able to buy three or four and store them for future use.

During the past few weeks the supply situation in the oil fields has eased considerably, and there is enough material to work with, although its price is high.

PRODUCTION OF OIL LESS.
Daily Output in State Fields Declines and is Below the Shipments.
Production of oil in California fields for March of 267,729 barrels per day is approximately 5000 barrels per day less than that recorded for February. Shipments during March of 284,195 barrels per day show a small decline, but are still considerably in excess of production.

Stocks were decreased $29.082 barrels; fifty-one new wells were completed with an initial daily production of 7700 barrels.

NORTH END MINES TURN OUT MUCH ORE.
HIGH COST OF MATERIALS AND LABOR SHORTAGE FAIL TO HALT DEVELOPMENT.
VIRGINIA CITY (Nev.) May 5.—Four north-end mines, the United Consolidated, Ophir, Consolidated Virginia and Sierra Nevada, are producing profitable ore, and the Mexican will resume production in a short time. The product from the active yielders is going to the Mexican mill, but a considerable amount of ore is being stored, pending enlargement of the plant, as it is running to capacity largely on Union Consolidated quartz. New equipment will be provided as fast as it can be obtained, and all the active mines are in shape to heavily increase their output.

Conditions are highly satisfactory in the district, despite the high cost of materials and labor. Miners are now receiving $5 per day, but the excellent grade of ore exposed in the lower levels, together with $1 silver, has compensated for increased operating expenses. Union Consolidated disbursed dividend No. 6 on May 1, at the rate of 5 cents per share, making $100,000 distributed to stockholders since January 1.

The Union Consolidated is now producing excellent ore from several points on the 2400 and 2500-foot levels, and indications are excellent for early production from the 2200 and 2600-foot levels. Approximately 300 tons of ore assaying close to $25 per ton are going weekly to the Mexican mill, where it is mixed with lower-grade material from the Union dumps.

Good ore is being drawn from old stops and new workings on the 2400-foot level of the Ophir, and in the Sierra Nevada, where the work is advancing with every indication favorable for opening of an important deposit of rich ore. Work is advancing from the 2000, 2100, 2200 and 2700-foot levels of the Consolidated Virginia, and the management is completing preparations for a daily output of fifty tons. Ore sampling $15 to $19 per ton is being sent to the Mexican mill, but production is restricted by inability of the plant to take care of a steady output on a heavier basis in the drift.

DRAMA.

CUPID ON THE WIRE.

NEITHER CURRENT GROUNDED IN MOROSCO PLAY.

By Henry Christies Warnack.

"Over the Phone," the play at the Morosco this week has not kept itself unspotted from the world. It has none of the blindness of virtue nor the ignorance of bias, in fact it rather contrives, in its efforts at speed, to give itself a sordid and an unlovely joint.

Sometimes we reach a point in our experience where we go on for staples, having a lusty appetite for roasts and care nothing whatever for orchids and lobster fat. Those looking for staples in drama would find no substance in "Over the Phone," while those who enjoy the fragile and the airy might be disappointed at many points in the production which, often seems in danger of breaking through into a big dramatic situation and never doing it. It is furthermore handicapped itself with an element of confusion through the introduction of counterplots that neither counter nor plot with any clarity or success.

Nobody could make me believe that so fine a girl as the heroine would tolerate such a grouch and creek for a stepfather, and I think the audience should refuse to meet her even in a play, in spite of the fact that he is quite wonderfully played by Robert Lawton.

Furthermore, to continue the quarrel, there is not a particle of sense in having stepfather dump the girl's trunk and all of her belongings on the floor of the artist's living-room unless this chattering of the premises with feminine apparel does something to advance the plot, which it clearly does not.

"ONCE MORE AMERICAN"

GEORGE BEBAN'S LAST ITALIAN CHARACTER STUDY.

By Antony Anderson.

All that George Beban knows in dramatic art he knows so thoroughly from A to Z—you perceive that I grant him the whole alphabet—that when he begins to juggle with it for the purpose of producing a beloved Italian he gives us more than a series of pictures, he breathes the very spirit of life into the character. He has done it many times, wonderfully, and never more wonderfully than in the last of his vivid vignettes of the Ghetto.

This is "Once More American," presented at Clune's Broadway with a corps of extremely capable assisting actors. The story of "Once More American" is of the simplest, and though it is so common in the lives of the poor in great cities, there is none of its poignancy for all that. It is rich in humanity, full of the variety of everyday comedy.

It recounts the experience of Luigi Riccardo, who runs a marionette theater on the East Side and who is so staunchly American that he incurs the ill-will of Boss Regan and thereby almost loses the wife and child for whom he has been waiting for five years and who have just arrived from Italy. When Luigi finds out who it is that has dashed the cup of joy from his lips he runs amuck to kill and the boss has a thrillingly narrow escape. A newspaper reporter (Jack Hunt) comes to the rescue, however. The boss gets his deserts, after all—not death, to be sure, but a grand jury indictment.

It. B. Carpenter plays Boss Regan to the life; Camille Ankewich, the finely intelligent player, is Maria, the wife; Raymond Hatton gives us a notable characterization, Bump Rundle, an East Side bruiser, and Helen Eddy is a delightful fall to Bump as his Italian sweetheart.

The marionettes are almost as exciting and excitable as the men and women themselves, and all in all, "Once More American" is a photoplay that "gets" you.

"Over the Top." Undoubtedly there will be differences of opinion as to whether "Over the Top" is better than the picture version of them. We are now stuck with the opportunity of judging for ourselves, for the photoplay is showing at the Alhambra.

The book was a delightful thing. Empey was not trained to literary expression, but he has the gift of narration, the ebullient leaven of humor, the fine simplicity of the man who is a hero without in the least knowing it. The naïveté of "Over the Top" took the world by storm, and young Empey became the popular idol, because he seemed to all of us so typically American.

Had Empey been born in the bushbuckling period, he would have blithely trailed behind every forlorn hope—and come out scuffed and smiling. As it is, he has his lot, very early in the game, with the grandest hope the world has ever known, and in "doing his bit" this small private—the picture do not grant him heroic inches—seems destined to do more than any other criticism. As propaganda, it is mightier than his sword (though his sword was lively), and the photoplay will be mightier than his book.

Empey is not an actor—which is why he is so good in pictures. He is as natural as life. He has an indomitable face that is lividly seared on the left cheek. He is expressive, reckless, boyish, likable. He has given us the most astounding war pictures ever produced. Looking at them, you know that they are genuine. These thrilling war pictures excuse the gaps in the continuity, the lack of evenness of the story. They hold you spellbound, and you are given a hang for the story, anyhow. Empey, and perhaps Empey alone, has made the picture a masterpiece of thrilling, authentic, the scenario writer must shoulder the responsibility of all the pictures.

Betty Blythe must not be forgotten. As Mrs. Arnold, the French nurse, she is one of the most perfect creatures I have ever beheld on the screen, a beautiful and dominant figure. The picture, the coming great star in motion pictures.

SUNDAY AUTO ACCIDENTS. (BY DESK) WIRE—RECEIVED DISPATCH. VENICE, May 5.—Two automobile accidents were reported by the police today. Walter A. Cullen, proprietor of the Santa Monica Drug Company, while out riding with Mrs. Kunath, struck a car driven by a bicyclist on Washington boulevard, between Venice and Palms. The bicyclist, whose name is unknown, sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was attended by Police Surgeon Magee at Loomis Hospital. The surgeon expressed doubt as to his recovery. The second accident occurred to K. Turkin, a Japanese, and with an effort to evade hitting a dog, Turkin ran into the curb on Westmain avenue, where the machine was demolished. Turkin's head, knee and scalp wounds. Mrs. Turkin was cut in the face by the broken windshield. The couple reside at No. 1204 East Fourteenth street, Los Angeles.

INTRODUCES NEW THIEVERY PLAN. Entire Cash Register is Stolen by Man to Get the Money. E. E. Carter's cash register, which was stolen from his drug store at No. 2627 South Vermont avenue late Saturday night, and used by burglars to establish a new style of getting something for nothing, was turned over to the police yesterday by R. P. Bean, of No. 2823 Moneta avenue. The register disappeared from the drug store when a man of small stature entered the place and asked for 50 cents worth of muriatic acid. When the clerk handed him the acid from the back part of the store, the small man and large cash register were gone. The register was found at Fifth and Berendo street. Several dollars in money were taken out, but the machine was not damaged.

BETTER CAR SERVICE SOUGHT AT REDONDO.

CHAIRMAN CULLEN POINTS WAY FOR INCREASED TRAFFIC TO HARBOR.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

REDONDO BEACH, May 5.—Referring to the letter of Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, to Traffic Manager H. H. Matson, relative to the shipyard special which the Pacific Electric Company is now operating between Redondo Beach and San Pedro, Joseph V. Cullen, chairman of the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce, has pointed out the need for a better car service.

"There is at present only one car leaving Redondo Beach for San Pedro. This car leaves Redondo Beach at 5:45 a. m., but as a rule this car is late and the men very often do not arrive on time at the shipyards. The car makes a roundabout trip by way of Hermosa to Torrance and it takes from one hour and twenty minutes to make the trip. The tracks are also poor. This is the reason that the traffic is light. How could it be otherwise?"

"If a direct line were built from Redondo Beach to Torrance, a distance of three miles, we would then have a thirty-five minute service. With such a service there is no question but what traffic would be very heavy, as heavy as the company itself would expect. There are thousands of first-class houses available in Redondo Beach and other neighboring beach cities, which would all be rented quickly by the shipyard employees, if such a service were instituted."

great record, raising their allotment during the first few days of the drive. The county was asked to buy $161,000 worth of bonds, and it sold among 5000 investors $2,400,000 worth.

Seventeen thousand individual subscribers in San Diego county bought enough bonds to exceed their allotment to the extent of $1,250,000. Santa Barbara county's allotment was $1,125,000, and the people subscribed $1,762,150, the individual subscribers amounting to an increase of 20 per cent. over the record made in the second Liberty Loan campaign.

Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo, having an allotment of $112,800, raised $250,000 among 2249 subscribers.

Orange county's total subscription was $1,951,400, which is $541,200 over the county's quota. There are 10,670 subscribers in the county, of whom 4296 are in Santa Ana.

According to figures which have been compiled by the county, the county's subscription up to the close of business Saturday night, Tulare county's quota was $1,200,000. Subscriptions actually paid in have reached $1,400,000, with many committees yet to make their final report.

These bonds were purchased by 8000 persons, representing at least 25 per cent. of the population. Sales committees at work in the various districts included 450 persons.

Woodlake holds the Tulare county record, with an oversubscription of 210 per cent. Strathmore's record was 200 per cent.

MAKE RICH STRIKE. Capite Ore Is Uncovered in Higgins Mine Near Bisbee—Considered Fine.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.) BISBEE (Ariz.) May 4.—Remarkably rich capite ore has been struck in the Higgins mine, which lies in the upper part of the camp, adjoining the older workings of the Copper Queen. The discovery was made 150 feet from the Queen line, in a north-and-south fault, in ground that has been unmined for years.

The leasers, Edward Stoltz, Dan Levy, Albert Bergquist and William Robinson, have driven 125 feet in extremely hard limestone, with slender indications of value ahead, yet confident in their own judgment, now sustained.

A couple of carloads of ore a day have been going from the Dequ mines of the district.
